

CCPA Privacy Notice for California Residents

Effective Date: January 1, 2020

Syneos Health (“we”, “us”, “our”) are required by the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (“CCPA”) to explain to California residents (“Consumers”) about online and offline practices with regard to how we collect, use and share their personal Information, and about the rights and choices we offer them regarding our handling of the personal information. Syneos Health is an end-to-end, fully integrated Business-to-Business solutions company primarily servicing the biopharmaceutical industry (our “Customers”). If you wish to print this document, please click here for a printable format.

Personal Information Defined

When we use the term personal information in this notice, we mean information that identifies, relates to, describes, is capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular consumer or household (“personal information”). Personal information does not include:

- Information that is lawfully made available from federal, state, or local government records.
- Information that is de-identified or aggregated consumer information.
- Information excluded from the CCPA’s scope, including:
 - Health or medical information covered by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) and the California Confidentiality of Medical Information Act (CMIA) or certain clinical trial data;
 - Personal information covered by certain sector-specific privacy laws, including the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FRCA), the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA) or California Financial Information Privacy Act (FIPA), and the Driver’s Privacy Protection Act of 1994.
 - Other information subject to an exemption from the CCPA’s coverage.

Personal Information We Collect, Use and Share

Syneos Health does not sell personal information. As we explain in our Privacy Notice:

- Cookies and other Tracking Tools
We use cookies and other tracking tools to analyze website traffic and facilitate advertising. If you would like to opt out of our (and our third party advertising partners’) use of cookies and/or other tracking tools, please review the instructions provided in the Tracking Opt-Out section below.
- Directed Disclosures
When doctors, candidates and other business representatives share their information with us in the context of interacting with us, it is with the understanding that we will broadly share their details with our actual and potential customers. This is because our customers are looking to provide services to the businesses those individuals represent (e.g., therapies) or obtain services from them (e.g., leading clinical trials, speaking at conferences, etc.). Facilitating these engagements is a core part of our business. We treat all doctors and other healthcare providers who visit our websites as representatives of their business (whether sole proprietor or otherwise), who provide information through our websites in their business capacity.

California Residents' Privacy Rights

The CCPA grants Consumers with certain rights, which are subject to certain limitations and exceptions. This section describes these rights. If we are not able to complete some or all of a Consumer's verifiable consumer request, we will communicate the reason to the Consumer in writing. We treat all doctors and other healthcare providers who visit our websites as representatives of their business (whether sole proprietor or otherwise), who provide information through our websites in their business capacity, and this section does not apply to information related to such business contacts.

- Information. Consumers can request information about the personal information we have collected about them and how we have used and shared their Personal Information during the past 12 months. We have made this information available to California residents without having to request it by including it in this notice, above.
- Access. Consumers can request a copy of the personal information that we have collected about them over the past 12 months. In certain cases, we are not permitted by the CCPA to provide you with certain sensitive information in response to an access request, such as your social security or driver's license number.
- Deletion. Consumers can ask us to delete the personal information that we have collected from them. In certain circumstances, the CCPA allows us to deny Consumer requests to delete their personal information, such as where we need the information to complete a transaction for which the personal information was collected or where we need the personal information to comply with a legal obligation.

Consumers are entitled to exercise the rights described above free from discrimination.

How to Submit a Verifiable Consumer Request

- To request access to or deletion of personal information, Consumers can contact us as follows:
 - call 866-875-1569
 - email data.privacy@syneoshealth.com
 - website: www.syneoshealth.com/privacy-notice
- Identity verification. The CCPA requires us to verify the identity of the individual submitting a Consumer request to access or delete personal information before providing a substantive response to the request. Where possible, we will attempt to verify your identity by asking you to confirm information that we have on file about your or your interactions with us. Where we must ask for additional personal information to verify your identity, we will only use it to verify your identity or your authority to make the request on behalf of another consumer. You do not need to create an account with us to exercise your rights
- Authorized agents. You can designate an "authorized agent" who has registered with the California Secretary of State to submit verifiable consumer requests on their behalf. You can also make a Consumer request on behalf of your minor child. We will require the authorized agent to have a written authorization confirming that authority.

How We Respond to Verifiable Consumer Requests

We will acknowledge receipt of your verifiable consumer request within 10 days of our receipt of your request, and we will endeavor to substantively respond within 45 days of our receipt of your request. If we need to extend our response time (up to 90 days from receipt of your request), we will inform you in writing of our reasons for doing so. We will deliver your personal information via your online account with us, if you have one, or by other secure electronic means. If we are unable to process your verifiable consumer request in whole or in part, we will explain our reasons for doing so.

Please note that we do not typically charge a fee to respond to verifiable consumer requests unless they are excessive, repetitive, or manifestly unfounded. If we determine that your verifiable consumer request warrants the assessment of a fee, we will inform you of the reasons supporting our determination and provide you with our estimate of the costs to fulfill your request before we take action to enable you to determine whether you would like us to complete your request.

Changes to This Privacy Notice

We may periodically update this notice. When we post changes to this notice, we will also revise the “Last Updated” date appearing at the top of the notice. If there are material changes to this notice, we will notify you by e-mail or by means of a notice on our home page. We encourage you to review this notice periodically to be informed of how we are using your information and to be aware of any changes to it. Your continued use of the Sources after the posting of any amended notice shall constitute your agreement to be bound by any such changes. Any changes to this notice are effective immediately after we post it.

Tracking Opt-Out Guide

Like many companies online, we use services provided by Google, Facebook and others companies that use tracking technology. These services rely on online tracking technologies – such as cookies and web beacons – to collect directly from your device information about your browsing activities, about your interactions with websites, and about the device you are using to connect to the Internet. There are a number of ways to opt out of having your online activity and device data collected through these services, which we have summarized below:

- Blocking cookies in your browser. Most browsers let you remove or reject cookies, including cookies used for interest-based advertising. To do this, follow the instructions in your browser settings. Many browsers accept cookies by default until you change your settings. For more information about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set on your device and how to manage and delete them, visit www.allaboutcookies.org.
- Blocking advertising ID use in your mobile settings. Your mobile device settings may provide functionality to limit use of the advertising ID associated with your mobile device for interest-based advertising purposes.
- Using privacy plug-ins or browsers. You can block our websites from setting cookies used for interest-based ads by using a browser with privacy features, like Brave, or installing browser plugins like Privacy Badger, Ghostery or uBlock Origin, and configuring them to block third party cookies/trackers.
- Platform opt-outs. The following advertising partners offer opt-out features that let you opt-out of use of your information for interest-based advertising:
 - Google:

- Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/about/ads>
- Advertising industry opt-out tools. You can also use these opt-out options to limit use of your information for interest-based advertising by participating companies:
